Dear Urvi,

Congratulations! It is an honor to invite you to join Carnegie Mellon University's School of Computer Science for Fall 2017 under our early decision program. Each year, Carnegie Mellon receives an increasing number of applications from very talented students. After reviewing the academic and supporting credentials of all of our applicants, we believe that you can be very successful at Carnegie Mellon.

On behalf of the university, I want to express our confidence in you. We know that you will greatly contribute to our campus community, both in academics and extracurricular activities. As a university, we are committed to meeting your need for intellectual and personal growth, and we hope you will make Carnegie Mellon your university.

To accept our offer of admission, please submit an $800 deposit by VISA or MasterCard at www.cmu.edu/ntia on or before February 1, 2017. This deposit will be credited to your account and is not refundable or transferable. Because you have been accepted to Carnegie Mellon under the early decision plan, you should make plans to withdraw applications from other colleges or universities.

For information relating to financial aid for Early Decision candidates, please visit www.cmu.edu/ntia. As an early decision freshman, you will have first consideration for residence hall selection for freshmen. Later this spring, you will receive information describing residence hall and dining options. If you have not received this material by April 15, please contact the Office of Admission. More details concerning your course selection, registration, and freshman orientation will be sent in early June. You may continue to check on your admission and financial aid status on our website. In order to ensure the security of your information, continue to use your Common Application ID for logging in to Where Am I in the Process and a new unique Admission ID 2222540 which must be used when paying your enrollment deposit and accessing some information on our website. Our website address is: www.cmu.edu/admission. Click on Application Status at the bottom of our homepage to access your information.

Please note that financial aid is not available for international students admitted to Carnegie Mellon as undergraduates either for the first or subsequent years of study. You must assume the total cost of your educational expense for the full duration of your academic program. For 2016-2017, the cost of tuition, activity fee, room and board, books and supplies, and personal expenses is $69,830. This does include health insurance but does not include travel expenses. You must make financial arrangements well in advance of enrollment. Certification that financial obligations can be met will be required by the university and also by the United States official who issues the necessary visas.

The remaining first semester balance of $35,175, which is one half of the total cost plus health insurance, must be paid by August 15, 2017. An I-20 form will be sent to you upon the receipt of your deposit. We will not issue a certificate of eligibility until we receive your deposit and the necessary financial documents. Please remember the affidavit for financial support and student financial statement is required for immigration and institutional purposes. Please complete and return it even if you are returning the first semester payment by August 15, 2017.

Residence Life and Dining Services do not operate during the two major vacation periods of the academic year, the period between semesters and the spring holiday. During these periods, students must provide their own room and board.

For the remainder of the year, we know you will maintain the same level of academic performance and good citizenship which has resulted in your acceptance to Carnegie Mellon. In our application materials, you will find a Candidate Mid-Year High School Grade Report. Ask your guidance counselor to complete and return this form to our office after mid-year grades are reported in February. We will send a request for final grades and high school graduation confirmation in late May.

The admission staff joins me in congratulating you on your admission. We wish you every success in your college career. We are proud to have you join the Carnegie Mellon family.

Sincerely,
